

Special Interest Morning

SURREALISM with JACQUELINE COCKBURN
MARCH 25th, 10:00 AM
RSVP 20th MARCH

The Origins of Surrealism

Jacqueline will consider paintings, objects, photographs, drawings and collage exploring the many ways artists experimented to make visible and tangible sense of the invisible or subliminal world. This will begin with a look at artists and writers who influenced the Surrealists going all the way back to Bosch's extraordinary visions and awareness of another world.

Surrealism and its Legacies

After a delicious morning tea, Jacqueline will continue to explore surrealism, beginning with a study of Degas' 14-year-old dancer and ending with contemporary TV series. Through Surrealist objects it will be argued that the legacy of Surrealism lives on today and that many of the preoccupations of the artists and the way they voiced them visually has resonances in our contemporary world.
